One of the most delightful social events of the season was the banquet at the Harris hotel last evening, given by Battery F, 160th Field Artillery of the Oklahoma National Guard to all members, officers and a few of their friends. Covers were spread for one hundred plates. This company is commanded by Capt. Robert Kerr.

Guests assembled at 8 o'clock and were ushered into the large banquet room of the hotel. The banquet consisted of watermelon, celery, ripe olives, chicken a la Maryland, potatoes au gratin, ice cream, cake and lemonade. It was served in four courses.

Dr. A. J. Linscheid presided as toastmaster and kept the crowd roaring with laughter with his humorous jokes and short stories. In fact, those present commented on the fact that the doctor had such a wonderful fund of humorous information ready. His thrusts hit first one and then another, but the daggers points were always sweetened with some kind of bait.

Kerr Greets Crowd

Capt. Kerr delivered the address of welcome, setting out that the Battery wants to be more closely identified with the city and asking the citizens to take a more personal interest in the guards and its work and aspirations.

Judge J. F. McKeel responded to the address and told of some of the benefits the guard is to the city. It is training better citizens and is putting Ada on a par with other towns and cities. He complimented the officers of the guard and the results they were getting.

Col. William S. Keys, of Wewoka, in speaking on the history of the 160th Field Artillery, said it has no history to speak of but does have a wonderful present and a bright future. It is composed mostly of young men on the eastern side of the state and mainly of those in this immediate section of the state. He complimented Battery F for the splendid progress it has made and said he considered it one of the two best units in the regiment.

Lieutenant Lowry Harrell reviewed the activities of camp life at Fort Sill and told particularly about the efforts to get to Medicine Park. There seemed to be some joke about Judge Harrell's wanting to get to the park, but just what the joke is some of the visitors did not learn. Anyway he said they had much fun, as they did not work but eighteen hours a day, leaving the entire six hours for sleep and recreation.

Army Band Complimentary.
Capt. Stacy Knorr of Oklahoma City, a member of the regular army, was complimentary to the local organization. It is his opinion that the National Guard will play a considerable part in the defense forces of this country.

That any boy who is a member of a national guard organization will be benefitted by the training, is the opinion of Maj. J. Byron Sledge, commander of the Second Battalion Headquarters Detachment of this place.

That a National Guard unit is not only a military organization but is also a civic organization, Hon. Robt. Wimbish said he had learned in speaking of the civic work. There are many things to be done in this county to improve the citizenship, and the National Guard can be of much service in this.

In giving a congressman's view of the matter, Hon. Tom D. McKeown believes that the National Guard will have to be strengthened as the regular army has been cut in numbers. He believes congress made a mistake in cutting the officers to such a small number.

COUNTY JUDGE PLEADS GUILTY ON ONE COUNT

Tal Crawford, county judge, entered a plea of guilty Tuesday in the court of Justice H. J. Brown to a charge of disturbing the peace and paid a fine of $10 and cost. A charge of being drunk was dismissed. Date for the hearing had been set for August 30 after an attempt to obtain a change of venue had been made.

Dryland Bathing Beauties Harass Wabash Officers

WABASH, Aug. 21.—There are no bathing beauties to contend with in Wabash for the city has no beach, only the banks of the Wabash river. Just the same, Chief of Police Bolte has his troubles with costumes of the women folk.

Two of these cross country hiking girls came to town yesterday and Chief Bolte says that "bathing beauties are all muffled up" as compared with this pair. The chief detained them until they agreed to add to their costumes. They gave their ages as 19 and their home as Detroit.

LOCAL TEACHERS MEET FOR FIRST TIME THIS YEAR

Hickman Tells Faculty of Work Expected in Coming Months.

SCHOOL OPEN MONDAY

No Labor Day Holiday to Be Given Says Order
From Board.

At a general meeting of all teachers in the city schools held in the high school building at 9:30 this morning, Supt. J. E. Hickman outlined plans, ambitions and expectations of his office for the coming school term and several speakers addressed the meeting in regard to various phases of school work.

It was the first meeting the new teaching force has held since the dismissal of school last May. Plans were outlined for the work this year, not only as a school system as a whole, but at individual ward schools and at the high school. Each teacher was given a definite idea of the nature of the school administration of this city and a general outline of the work expected.

Mr. Hickman spoke at length to the teaching force. All were asked to cooperate with his office to the limit in order that the highest efficiency might be obtained by a close organization of teachers.

In addition to the addresses by Mr. Hickman, Miss Shannon, a representative of the Oklahoma Public Health Association, addressed the teachers for a short time on the health crusade to be made by that association this year. She said her organization was eager to get health work started with other school work and asked the assistance of the teachers in the campaign to keep down disease.

Hill Lines Up Work
Miss Inez Donaldson, supervisor of music, Mrs. H. F. Felix, supervisor of writing and drawing, and Prof. W. A. Hill also addressed the meeting. Prof. Hill spoke of his plans for high school and its connection with the ward schools.

Before adjournment announcements were made including the call meeting of all teachers with the principals of the ward schools at the various buildings Friday morning at 9:00 o'clock. Prof. Hill will also meet his teaching force at the high school at this hour. Another meeting of the high school faculty will be held at the building at nine o'clock Monday morning, at which all must be present. It was announced.

Mr. Hickman said following the close of the meeting that he wished to emphasize that fact that the idea circulating about the city that there would be no school Monday was erroneous. School will open at all ward schools and the high school promptly at eight o'clock Monday morning. No labor day celebration is being held here and students are requested to come prepared for a day's work.

ANTHRACITE SUSPENSION EXPECTED TO END SOON

(By the Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—Settlement of the anthracite suspension within 24 hours was forecast today by men in close touch with both sides. Operators were in a secret conference at the Ritz-Carlton hotel early today, it was declared, while across the street John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, and other union leaders were gathered. The hard coal mines will have been idle five months tomorrow.

KLAN APPEARS AT REVIVAL MEETING

Local Knights Contribute
$25 to Success of Oak Avenue Campaign.

Twenty robed knights of the Ku Klux Klan appeared in the midst of revival services at Oak Avenue Baptist church Wednesday night and endorsed, with a contribution of $25 and a note of approval, the evangelistic work.

A packed church witnessed the silent demonstration.

Following is the letter, addressed to Rev. J. H. Page, pastor, which accompanied the contribution:

"The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan have observed with pleasure the excellent work you and your noble church are doing in the past and especially the efforts being made in this revival meeting.

"We want to show our appreciation in a material way and ask that you accept this gift or contribution which we inclose herewith to help pay the expense of carrying on your work.

"We stand for the things for which Protestant religion stands and we are ready at all times to cooperate with any movement to carry on the work of the religion of our Lord and Master.

"May the Lord bless you and your noble band of workers."
(Seal) "ADA KLAN NO. 27."

SENATE TO VOTE UPON VET BONUS BEFORE STOPPING

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—A final vote on the soldiers bonus bill before adjournment of the senate today appeared to be reasonably certain. All pending amendments had been disposed of and general debate begun before recess last night.

Passage of the measure was regarded as a foregone conclusion, but whether it would reach the statute books was conceded by friends and foes alike to be another question. They held that this probably would depend upon President Harding since it was regarded as very doubtful that there could be obtained in the senate the necessary two-thirds to pass the bill over a veto.

BIG PAPER TOMORROW.

Friday's Evening News will contain twenty-two or twenty-four pages. It will be filled with information about Ada, Pontotoc County and this territory. Watch for it and after reading it, file it for future reference.

STORES TO CLOSE ON LABOR DAY

The retail stores which are members of the Retail Merchants Association will be closed all day Monday, Labor Day, according to an announcement this morning by Secretary J. E. Williams. This is in keeping with the spirit of the day and the custom of the Ada merchants.

EXCISE BOARD TO END WORK SEPT. 2

Small Omissions in First
Estimates Cause Short
Delay in Action.

Slight oversights in the county estimates, as published recently, and the necessity of advertising these omissions, will prevent the county excise board from completing its work on the annual budget until Saturday morning, County Clerk Rit Erwin announced Thursday.

Increasing the budget for conducting county elections from $2050, as provided in the estimate, to $4,000 will be one of the changes. Pontotoc county's primary alone this year cost approximately $2,000, it is reported, and some provision must be made for the final election in November.

Other additions to the estimate, as being advertised today, are $750 for maintenance and transportation for insane, and fees for the county insanity board, $600 for janitor's salary, $250 for janitor supplies, and an increase of $800 in the estimated expense of dragging and maintaining roads in Chickasaw township. The board will go back into session Saturday morning at 10 o'clock to complete its work.

Birth Rate Slowing

Down in U. S. While Mortality Picks Up

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The birth rate is declining and the death rate is increasing, according to statistics made public today by the census bureau, covering the first quarter of the year.

The birth rate showed an average of 23.3 for each thousand of the population for 1922 against 25.3 in 1921 while the mortality average was 13.7 against 12.6 for the same period of last year.

North Carolina reported the highest birth rate and the state of Washington, the lowest. The District of Columbia had the highest mortality rate and Wyoming the lowest.

War Buddies Fall Out Over Pet Dog Found Near Front

TROY, Kan., Aug. 31.—Unable to amicably settle the ownership of a German police dog which they jointly captured on a battlefield in France, the friendship of two world war buddies has become shattered and one was placed under arrest when charged by the other with stealing the dog, valued at $200.

The soldiers are Max Adamson and W. L. Sparks. When found the dog, standing guard over a fallen German officer. A year later Sparks brought the dog home and claimed ownership. Adamson has asked the court for the pet.

FIRE IN SHAFT IS OUT

Intense Heart is Warning to Workers that Blaze
May Break Out.

(By the Associated Press)
JACKSON, Calif., Aug. 31.—Three routes of escape from the smoke choked underground mine drifts, out to the sunlight, are possible to the 47 miners imprisoned in the lower levels of the Argonaut mine.

Two are through passages which workers are endeavoring to cut from the Kennedy, an adjoining mine. The third is through the shaft of the Argonaut itself.

The fire in the mine shaft is out. This was the announcement last night of experts working in the shaft, they said, was so intense that flames may break out again at any time. It will be five days before an entrance may be made though the charred section of the shaft to reach the men on the levels blow.

But the announcement that the flames were subdued added hope to the grey faced groups who wait in shifts at the entrance of the pit, and gave new strength to the grim workers.

Two women are hastening from far away Spain in anticipation of happy reunions when they reach this little town. Their husbands are among the imprisoned miners.

Some months ago these two workers sent the money to Spain that their wives might make her journey to America. The women are expected to arrive in Jackson at the end of this week.

ADA BOY WINNER OF HIGH HONORS AS CHAMP HIKER

Carl Brownell, the thirteen year old son of Mrs. Mabel Brownell, has returned from a three months trip to Colorado, where he visited relatives. While in Colorado he won distinction as an athlete and outdoors lad.

While in Colorado he went with a Y. M. C. A. bunch of thirty boys to Rotary Camp in the famous Boulder Canon. While there they made hikes and camped out. Among other things they hiked fifteen miles to the famous Arapaho Glacier and played in the snow.

At the end of the camping period the leader of the bunch pinned on Carl the Rotary emblem, which ceremony marked the Oklahoma lad as the best camper of the company.

This is considered a high honor, proving that the Scout training that Harry Miller is giving the boys here is the highest type, as Carl was competing with twenty-nine other Scouts. Another thing which is remarkable about it, is it pointed out, is the fact that Carl had more endurance in that rare atmosphere than the boys who were accustomed to it.

Carl is distinctly an Ada product having been born and brought up here. He enters the high school next week as a freshman.

NEW PLOTS DISCLOSED

Train Wreckers Scheme to Block Service on Many Lines of Nation.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Passing of the Chicago and Alton railroad into the hands of receivers, disclosures of new plots to wreck trains, and several actual attempts to cause derailment and blow up railroad property were high lights today in the nation wide railroad situation.

An attempt was made to blow up the commissary on the Illinois Central railroad at Paducah, Ky. The explosion blew a hole in the ground near the building.

A fast train on the Chicago and Alton ran into an open switch at Covel, Ill., near Bloomington. Investigators said the switch showed evidence of tampering.

Reedy Booth, a guard on the Southern railroad, died in a hospital at Augusta, Ga., from wounds received when he and another guard fired on intruders. One of the strikers were reported killed.

Walter Adams, a striking carman, was arrested at Memphis, Tenn., on a charge of highway robbery and an attempt to commit murder, the charges growing out of an attack July 5 on a special agent of the Union Belt Line railway.

The homes of two railroad workers at Council Bluffs, Iowa, were stormed with bricks and at Clinton, Iowa, a non-union worker was beaten and United States Marshal Pickett was slugged.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR REOPENING SHOPS

(By the Associated Press)
SEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 31.—Preparations were being made today for the reopening tomorrow of the shops of the Missouri Pacific and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroads. Men have been brought in, it was reported, to take the places of the union men now on strike. This is the first attempt made to operate the shops since the beginning of the shopmen's strike.

WHARTON DENIES HE ENGINEERED STRIKE

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Emphatic denial of charges that he is serving not only as a member of the United States Railroad Labor board, but also as president of the striking shopcrafts organizations, was made today by O. Wharton, one of the three labor members of the board.

Mr. Wharton made this retort when informed of a dispatch saying the charges would be contained in an article in the September issue of the Independent, a New York magazine, quoting another member of the federal arbitration body as saying "the shopmen's strike was engineered from inside the labor board."

OIL PRODUCTION SHOWS GAIN FOR WEEK IS REPORT

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The daily average gross crude oil production for the United States increased 7,400 barrels for the week ended August 26, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute.

Oklahoma-Kansas showed a daily average gross production of 486,300 barrels, a decrease of 1,000 barrels; North Texas showed no change and central Texas an increase of 2,000 barrels.

In Oklahoma production of the Osage Nation is shown at 110,250 barrels, against 112,130 barrels, and the output of the Lyons-Quinn pool was 17,700 barrels against 16,600 barrels.

No changes were reported in the crude oil prices for the major districts.

Consumption Is High.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Consumption of crude petroleum in July was the highest on record for any month, having increased more than 50,000 barrels as compared with June while the daily average production decreased 1,633 barrels, the geological survey announced today in its monthly report.

Stocks held July 31 aggregated a supply of 158 days as compared with 159 day's supply so held on June 30.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

LIVE RIGHT TODAY.—Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.—Proverbs 27:1.

Occasionally names are met with that have been engraved on human memory through some slight accident. Such a one is that of Rev. Burchard who is given credit for defeating Blaine in 1884 when in a laudatory address to Mr. Blaine he referred to the Democratic party as a party of "Run, Romanism and Rebellion". Evidently Blaine did not grasp the importance of the break or in his reply he would have smoothed matters over, but a sharp witted newspaper reporter fully understood its significance and lost no time in broadcasting it. It aroused a great deal of resentment and Blaine lost the pivotal state of New York by a small margin, but enough to prevent him from realizing the ambition of a lifetime. Burchard has been dead a long time and under ordinary circumstances would have been forgotten, but his blunder will stand as a monument to him, although said blunder consisted of only four words.

Possibly the German government is not able to meet the reparations payments promised the Allies. If it is not strong enough to make the tax payers come across it can not meet its obligations. German tax payer has never taken kindly to the idea of making good some of the losses inflicted on the allied nations and it may take drastic action to convince him that he as an individual is to be held responsible. With the war debts and reparations both hanging over Germany the picture is not a pleasant one for the people of that country and is certainly different from what they imagined would be the result of the war when they entered it, but the nation brought its troubles on itself when it sought to conquer the world.

A Republican leader of Texas says that the Democratic party of Texas has had its day and has passed. That is what they have been saying ever since the Civil war, but somehow the corpse has a habit of coming to life with unfailing regularity. The cat's nine lives is not a starter to the ability of the Democratic party to come back after its funeral has been preached and clouds thrown on its coffin by Republican prophets and priests.

With felony charges filed against the governor, lieutenant governor, former bank commissioner and threatened proceedings against the district judge and county attorney of Oklahoma county and every fellow in the bunch laying it all to politics things are in some mess. The law can be made an instrument for many things other than the administering of justice.

The Republican state convention issued an appeal to "good Democrats" to break out of their own reservation and help elect John Fields. Had Wilson or Owen won the nomination the appeal would have been made to the Walton element to do likewise. A vote is a vote no matter where it comes from.

The clean bill of health recently given Senator Newberry by Secretary Hughes might have been more convincing had not Hughes in private life been Newberry's attorney when the senator was under indictment in connection with the paying out of such big sums in his primary campaign.

Dependability is one of the chief foundation stones of success. It is extremely rare, hence valued all the more highly when found. Most failures are due to a lack of this quality, for the man who cannot be depended on is the first to go when a shakeup comes in any line of business.

The porcupine does not make as much noise as a lion and he never goes hunting for trouble, but just the same is a most unpleasant individual to try rough stuff on.

With cotton rolling into Ada, things are beginning to pick up. Naturally we do not know how much we will make yet, but the sight of the old King makes these southern fellows feel better.

The political party that first adopts a platform calling for the colonization of knockers ought to sweep the nation most overwhelmingly.

The labor board seems to be up against it in defining a living wage. The railroad men put the question squarely up to the board but it does not find the answer.

"Sweeten with honey," might be taken as a slogan of the bee men.

Don't forget the township fairs next week. Let's plan to go now.

STRANDED AND LEADERLESS, FACING THE GRAVEST CRISIS, ERIN SEEKS A "STRONG MAN TO FILL THE MARTYRED COLLINS' SHOES"

The Forum of the Press

New York, U. S. A.
(Oklahoma News)

The census returns show that only 23.6 percent of New York City's population are American born of American parents.

The rest of the inhabitants immigrated to America or were born here of foreign parents. Never before has the world known so alien a metropolitan city.

Nevertheless, the polyglot races dwell in harmony and New York is neither better nor worse governed than more exclusively American capitals.

All the distinction of New York is American. Its skyscrapers, its business activities, its confusion, its quick nervous energy typify the United States and no European nation whatever. New York is not a cross-section of the rest of the world. The chatter of diverse tongues is there, but the spirit of the people is American.

It has lately become the fashion among sociologists to declare the American melting pot is failing. New York proves the contrary. Nobody would pronounce New York a dying city. It is over-virile. So much so as to make it an abhorrence to people from quieter regions.

Success in New York is blatant and crude, in many respects; she has no finer sensibilities; but that is to be expected in the first few generations of its unprecedented racial experiment.

New York is still just an overgrown mine camp with all the Klondike trimmings. So let's give her time.

No More Booze Jokes.
(Lawton News)

The prohibition joke now can see its finish. With the order issued by E. F. Albee, president of the Keith vaudeville circuit, forbidding all references to prohibition, most of the variety stage in the United States is closed to this particular form of humor. The new order effects the east mainly. A similar order has been in effect for some time on the largest western vaudeville circuit.

It works havoc in the "spots" or vaudeville actors, but it is probably all the more justifiable for that reason. Vaudeville patrons are said to have complained persistently of the great and growing volume of gibes at prohibition and the various aspects of its enforcement, worked into stage dialogues. The rule was made, the theatrical people say, to avoid trouble and also to promote respect for law.

When the federal prohibition enforcement commissioner made a request, a year or so ago, that the public itself should stop kidding prohibition, he was laughed at for his pains and the jests came all the faster. When the foremost jest-factory itself does the same thing, it means business. Perhaps it also makes a natural stage of development.

The prohibition joke has really been played for all it is worth, in all of its ramifications. It was due for a quietus, in any event. Most of us remember how the Ford joke flourished in its prime, and where is it now? Another year or two may see the booze joke just as dead.

Convenient Nicknames
(New York Times)

Time was when the prophets were stoned. In later days, people were burned or hanged. But in the present the favorite way is to make fun of them, to tag them with humorous epithets and to devise some nickname for them. By such means we save ourselves the trouble of stopping to think whether there is truth in what is said by disturbing preachers of righteousness and get rid of an unwelcome person by giving him a comic or ridiculous name.

The best current example of the process is English. The Dean of St. Paul's, Dr. Inge, is a man of parts and power. He is a scholar and a reasoner. In addresses and in books he has set out to challenge some of the doctrines which the moderns complacently accept. That there is such a thing as a law on human progress, and that everything which is desirable passes for progress is desirable. Dean Inge has seriously questioned with a wealth of historical knowledge and contemporary illustration. In other ways he has shown himself to be a keen and skeptical inquirer into beliefs loosely held. To many this has seemed disagreeably pessimistic, and so they have sought relief by dubbing Dr. Inge "The Gloomy Dean." That seems to solve the difficulty by laughter.

The Gloomy Dean, meanwhile, goes on his way unperturbed. He recently preached a pungent sermon to the delegates to the International Peace Conference in London. They got small comfort from Dr. Inge. He is not credulous about human perfectibility. Yet he stood for peace based on frank acceptance of the facts of human nature and the forces of national life. He ended by declaring that the world could not have endured a triumphant militaristic Germany, but that it could not afford to have in the future an embittered and degenerate Germany. If this be gloom, make the most of it.

CHURCH FORCES UNITE TO SAVE ARMENIAN FOLK

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Religious forces throughout the country are massing to save the Armenians from further persecution at the hands of the Turks.

Action has been taken, according to the Federal Council of Churches, by the official bodies of the North-eastern Baptist Convention, the General Convention of the Church of the Brethren, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the United Presbyterian Assembly, the Church of the United States of America and the General Assembly of the Church of God.

A petition asking action in the matter was presented to President Harding recently by the Commission of International Justice and Goodwill of the Federal Council of Churches, with which are affiliated 30 communions. After pointing out that the Armenians were our allies in the great war, that America and the Allies pledged the Armenians a safe area in which to live and that though responsibility for protecting them has been referred to the League of Nations, the petition says, "America cannot escape her responsibility upon the ground of non-membership in the League."

The Federal Council's petition in closing declares: "What specifically the government of the United States may and should do is not for us to indicate. But we may appropriately let you know that our Churches earnestly desire that America should fulfill her pledges and obligations and would, we are firmly convinced, loyally support our Administration in accepting definite responsibilities for the assistance and protection of that ancient Christian people."

"The United States and all the Allied Nations should keep faith with Armenia."

"The world's sympathy should find expression in action."

WAGON TRACKS DIRECT OFFICERS TO A STILL

Wagon tracks, leading into a brush concealment in the middle of a hog pasture six miles west of Ada, directed Deputies Henry Whitson and J. B. Chapman Wednesday to the dismantled parts of what officers believe to have been at one time a perfect "wildcat" still. Only the whiskey boiler and a barrel remained of the outfit. No liquor was found and no arrests were made.

Mrs. Sherman Helped by

Lake, Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stay off my feet. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."—Mrs. MARY SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing the merit of this well-known medicine.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Nation Tackles $2,000,000,000 Building Deficit

Shortage in Residences and Stores Brings Great- est Boom in Building.

TWO billions of dollars is the valuation placed by economists upon the stores and residences that should have been constructed to provide for the country's normal development between 1914 and 1922. Consequently that colossal figure measures the shortage we have inherited from the days when soaring construction costs made building unprofitable, and when men and materials were being diverted to war purposes.

The chart shown above, based on the building permits issued the last 20 years in a score of the largest cities, indicates how nearly the country approached complete building stagnation. In 1918 the curve approached closest its base line. With construction at almost 90 per cent below normal, the country was supplying a little more than a tenth of the buildings it needed.

Economists are finding that most business and industrial activities move in cycles. From an examination of records it appears that normal and sub-normal periods are followed at regular intervals by "boom" or "peak" years. The chart shows how true this "law of cycles" is of the building trades. Beginning in 1903 we note the "peaks" in 1906, 1909, 1913, 1916, 1919 and 1922. They recur regularly at three- or four-year intervals. The phenomenal building activity now sweeping the country could have been predicted three years ago.

In future years it is not to be expected that the line will fall to any great extent. However it may fluctuate, it must remain in the area of abnormally high activity. From 1903 to 1914 it rose and fell without wandering far from the normal line. Surpluses balanced deficits and no appreciable shortage could accumulate. But after 1914 the line was continuously below normal, and the need for new building became increasingly acute. Since the country must make up this tremendous deficiency while it is supplying its current needs, we must look for at least five years of abnormally high building activity.

The deficit is mainly in stores and residences. In relieving the shortage that exists in this type of construction alone, workmen who are really skilled in the building trades will find continuous and profitable employment for years to come.

Boy Invalid is Marksman

Claude Sharpe, 16, Feeds Self and His Aged Father by Skilful Use of Rifle

Who will help Claude Sharpe, 16, Francis child prodigy, work out his own commercial education? Claude is paralyzed. Since babyhood he has been without the use of his legs. But in spite of his twisted body, Claude already is a reliable family provider with his rifle, and has managed to get an eighth grade education.

Now he wants to go through high school so he can earn a living for his father, 72 years old, and himself.

Mrs. Orville Snead, Pontotoc county Red Cross secretary, related Thursday the story of how, despite adversity, the boy has struggled on in a heroic effort to keep from being a burden upon his relatives. He wants to learn typewriting, he says, and neighbors have promised to teach him correct writing methods if someone will lend the boy a machine. A "Claude Sharp Club" has been organized recently to aid the boy attend high school. He is also to have a "big brother" and a "godmother." Claude's mother is dead. Four of the family were killed at once by alcohol poisoning several years ago.

A donkey furnishes the invalid boy his only means of transportation. But the weather seldom gets too cold for the tiny lad to crawl upon the mule's back, take his rifle and dog, and jog away into the country to shoot wild game and provide the family with fresh meat.

Someday the Red Cross hopes to take Claude to a famous surgeon for examination. The use of his limbs may even be restored. But in the meantime, Claude is preparing to live without them.

FIRST ARREST IS MADE FOR RIOTS

Otis Clark, Union Miner, is Indicted at Marion on Murder Charge.

(By the Associated Press) MARION, ILL., Aug. 31.—Otis Clark, a union coal miner, the first man indicted by the special grand jury investigating the Herrin massacre in which 22 persons were killed, surrendered shortly before noon. He was charged with the murder of C. K. McDowell, superintendent of the Lester strip mine where the massacre occurred.

Clark surrendered after a conference with officials of the Illinois mine workers who immediately arranged to furnish bond. Attorney General Brundage and other officials apparently did not look with favor on this as Clark was placed in jail.

The indictment of Clark, it was learned, resulted from alleged boasts attributed to him shortly after the massacre when some believed there would be no investigation that he participated in the killing of McDowell.

ARRAIGNMENT OF NINE MEN TO BE HELD NEXT MONTH

Continuation of arraignments was not contested except in one case. The cases against Governor Robertson were not called, a writ of mandamus for a charge being pending in the supreme court of this state.

INDIANS REVERE DAVID THOMPSON IN BIG PAGEANT

WINDERMERE, B. C., Aug. 30.—(By Canadian Press)—Four tribes of Indians are at Lake Windermere today to participate in the pageant and celebrations being held today and tomorrow in honor of David Thompson, the geographer and astronomer of the old North West Company, who built the first white man's trading fort in British Columbia, 115 years ago.

These are representative groups from Flagstone, from the Kootenay Plains, from the St. Eugene Mission, near Cranbrook, and from the Shuswap Reserve at Windermere itself. They propose holding a stampee with horse racing, bucking and roping contests, squaw races and a baby show. They also will put on the famous Drum dance, which consists of six separate dances including the Moon and the Snake dance. The Canadian Pacific Railway has shipped two of the great war canoes used in the Champlain Tercentenary Celebrations, and there are prospects of races between braves of these tribes, all of whom are expert in canoe work.

The opening of the fort coincides with the completion of the Banff-Windermere highway, a new automobile road over the Brisco Range and the Vermilion Pass in the Canadian Rockies. This road is the last link in the highway which will connect Banff with Spokane, Portland and San Francisco.

THE APOLOGY

By MARIE L. CORMIER

There was no sunlight in the dismal basement room where Pietro had gone at the urgent invitation of the corpulent man who answered to the name of "Boss." Heavy curtains shrouded the low windows and an unpleasant dampness pervaded the place. On the table between Pietro and Boss was a sputtering candle, wedged into the neck of a fat beer bottle.

"What's the matter, Pietro?" demanded Boss. "Don't like being in the dark, do ye?"

Pietro shook his head with emphasis.

"No, Signor Boss," he replied, groping for the English equivalents to express his contempt. "At my home ees always sunlight, ees always warm. Here the wind freeze the blood. You live in cellar where ees no sun, no air. Ugg! Ees like grave—no good!"

"When I came to this country," he volunteered after a pause, "I buy pushcart and sell banana. I make fine money. Then everything is cost high. The money goes. Only last night, signor—"

The fat man flung himself opportunely into the breach.

"Don't I know?" he purred. "Old Hewson raised your rent again." Pietro confirmed the information gloomily. "Sure—I thought so. Leave it to guys like Hewson to bleed you to the last drop. Him and that skunk of a Mobray—"

"Mobray!" Pietro, startled, repeated the name in shrill astonishment. "Signor Mobray is ver' fine man. He buy my banana—"

Boss laughed rancorously. "Sure he does," he admitted, with a cynical twist of his heavy lips. "And he sends flowers to the house when the woman's sick, don't he? Sure—I thought so. Well, d'ye know who owns your shack? Mobray!"

"Ees Signor Hewson, I think," corrected Pietro, politely.

"Well, think again," advised Boss, shortly. "Hewson's only the agent. Mobray is the main cheese. He ordered your rent to be raised. And tomorrow, in the town hall, he's going to tell us how grateful we ought to be for living in a free country. He ought to be stopped, and stopped good!"

"Si, Signor Boss!" agreed Pietro with sudden fire in his words. An hour later, when Pietro stepped out into the afternoon sunlight, there was a stiletto under his shirt and five crisp $100 bills in his pocket.

When he awoke in the morning his eyes rested on an unfamiliar object which was hanging on the wall beside his bed.

It was the portrait of a man with homely, rugged features, in which there was a note of brooding sadness. Over the picture had been draped an American flag. Before it stood Gino, straight and tall for his ten years, in the uniform of a boy scout. At the foot of the bed sat Luisa, watching him with black eyes that sparkled with pride.

"Already he is a fine American soldier," she exclaimed delightedly in their own tongue to Pietro.

"Gino is a fine American," Luisa repeated, proudly. "Today he goes to march in a parade to the town hall. What do you think of that? Maybe, too, some day he'll be President!"

"President!" Pietro routed the idea bitterly. "Not Gino. He is too poor—" "He was poor, too," protested the boy, pointing to the sad man.

Pietro smiled tolerantly. "I think, me," he said, irrelevantly, "that soon we go back home."

"The old country!" Luisa's voice bristled with scorn. "What were you at home, Pietro Tagalini? A slave. Here you make more money in a week than you made in the old country in a month. Some day, maybe, you'll own a fine big fruit store!"

"I think we go back," Pietro repeated firmly. Half an hour later his reluctant feet were propelling him in the direction of the town hall. A detachment of boy scouts was marching past. And at their head, cleaner and straighter than all the rest, marched his Gino, bearing the colors!

Pietro's cheeks flushed with pleasure. He wanted to jump and shout "Bravo!" so that all the world might know whose boy that was. His son! Then a new thought came to rob him of his enthusiasm. Gino, a mere boy, loved his America, believed in the future it held for him and was proud to bear its flag! But he, Pietro, a grown man, had renounced it and was going to commit murder because he could not stand the hard times. Hard times! Back at home there had been plenty of hard times. But that had not made of him a traitor, a murderer. He slipped a brown hand into the pockets of his trousers. The blits there seemed to reach out and scorch his fingers. He wheeled impulsively and stumbled into a little park that skirted the street.

There was a deep pool in the very center of the park. Pietro drew the stiletto from his shirt and flung it into the water. Then, as he turned to leave the place, some instinct caused him to look up and he saw the face of the sad man, rugged and homely in bronze, as it had been in the portrait. But now, as he stared at it, Pietro was sure he saw a smile at the corners of those stern, grim lips. The greatest of them all had a smile of approval—for him!

Confused, ashamed, Pietro fell on his knees before the statue and bared his head.

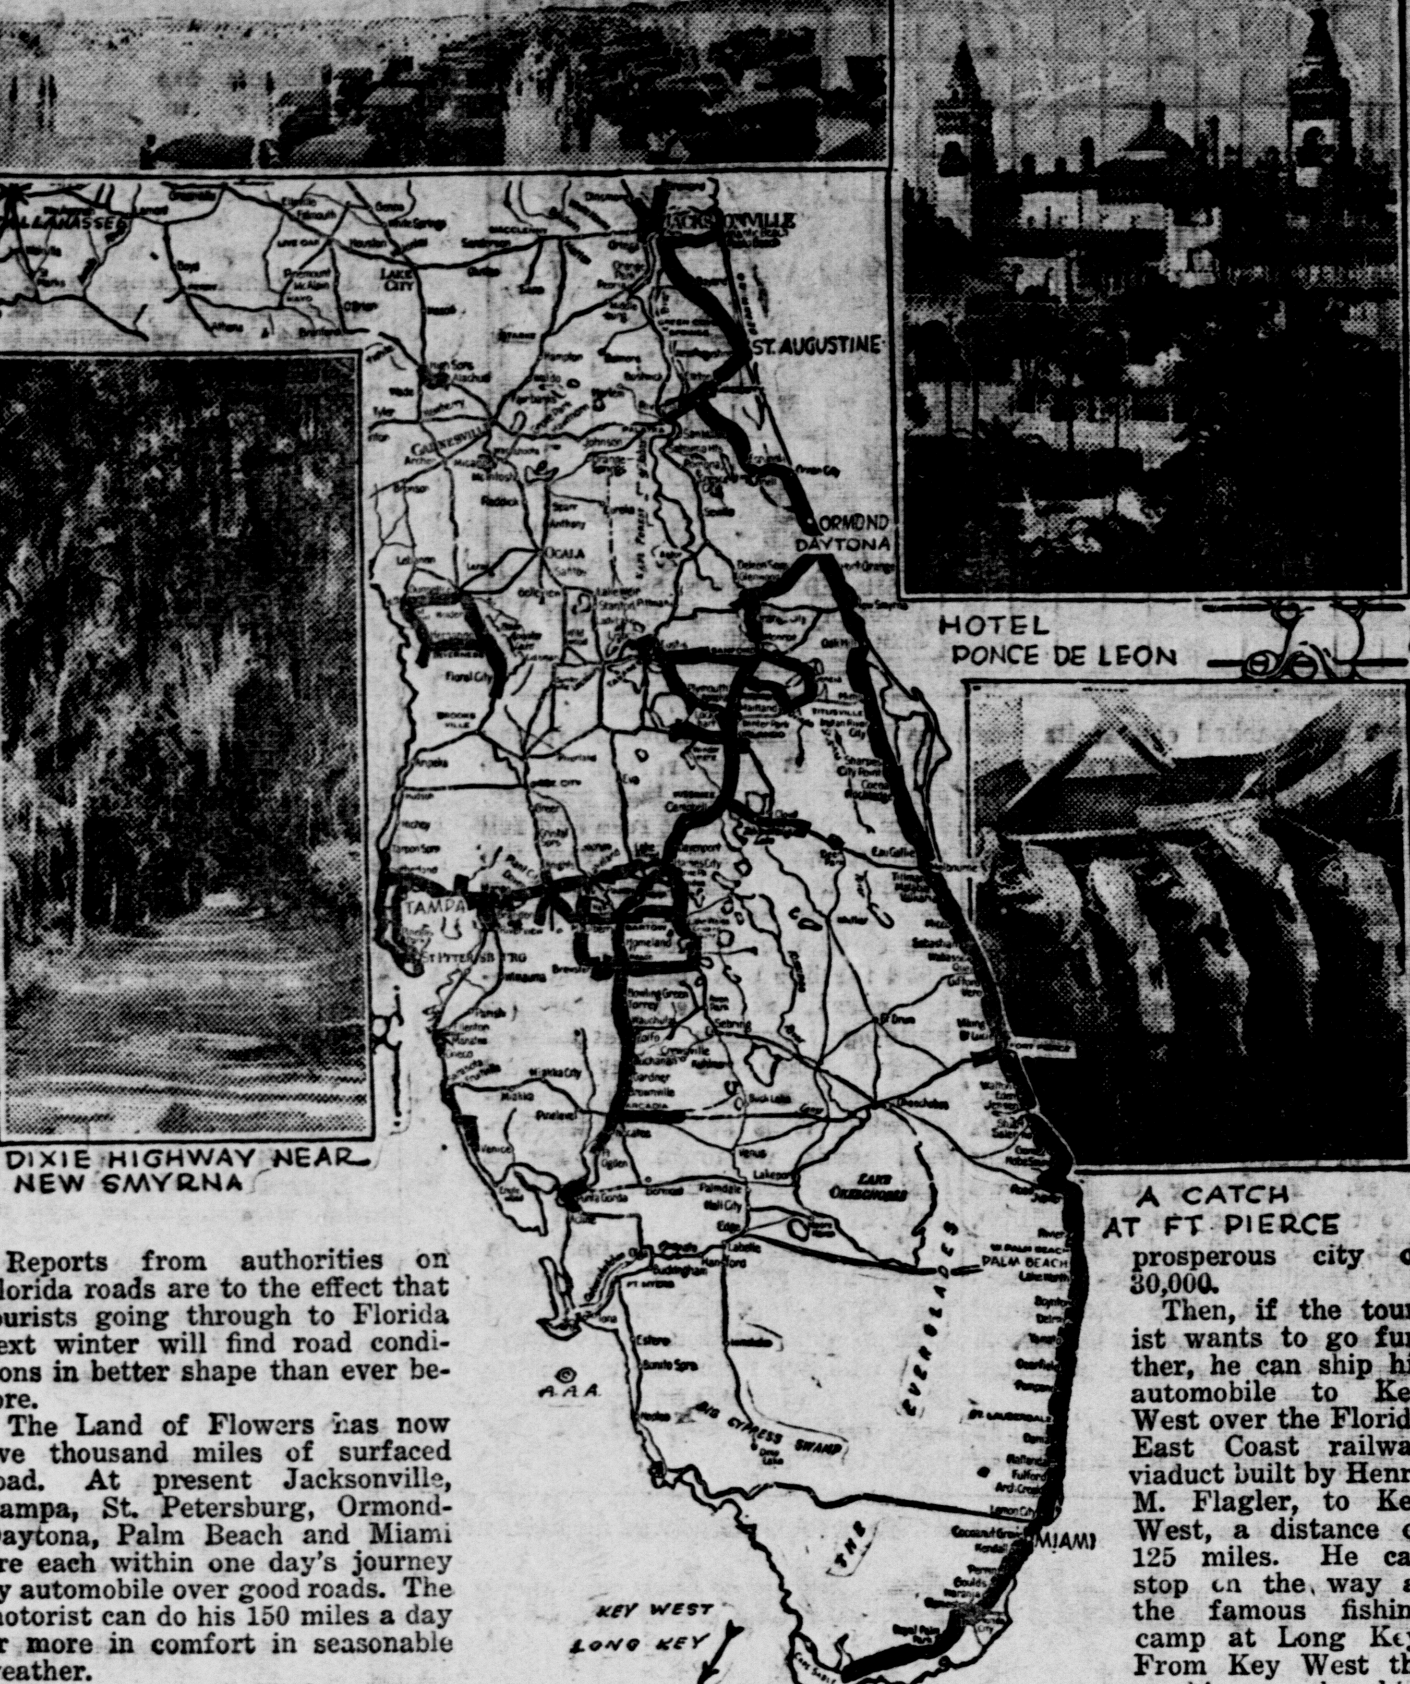

"Pardon, maestro!" he murmured.

FAMOUS DIXIE HIGHWAY SKIRTS FLORIDA EAST COAST CLEAR THROUGH TO MIAMI; ADVANCE INFORMATION FOR MOTORISTS

FAMOUS ORMOND-DAYTONA BEACH

DIXIE HIGHWAY NEAR NEW SMYRNA

Reports from authorities on Florida roads are to the effect that tourists going through to Florida next winter will find road conditions in better shape than ever before.

The Land of Flowers has now five thousand miles of surfaced road. At present Jacksonville, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Ormond-Daytona, Palm Beach and Miami are each within one day's journey by automobile over good roads. The motorist can do his 150 miles a day or more in comfort in seasonable weather.

The central Dixie Highway from Chattanooga to Jacksonville is all good, according to the Jacksonville Automobile Club.

Jacksonville is the starting point for the greatest winter tour in the world along a marine boulevard down the east coast of Florida, clear through to Miami, 377 miles, a sea skirting journey that is unrivaled in charm and scenic value.

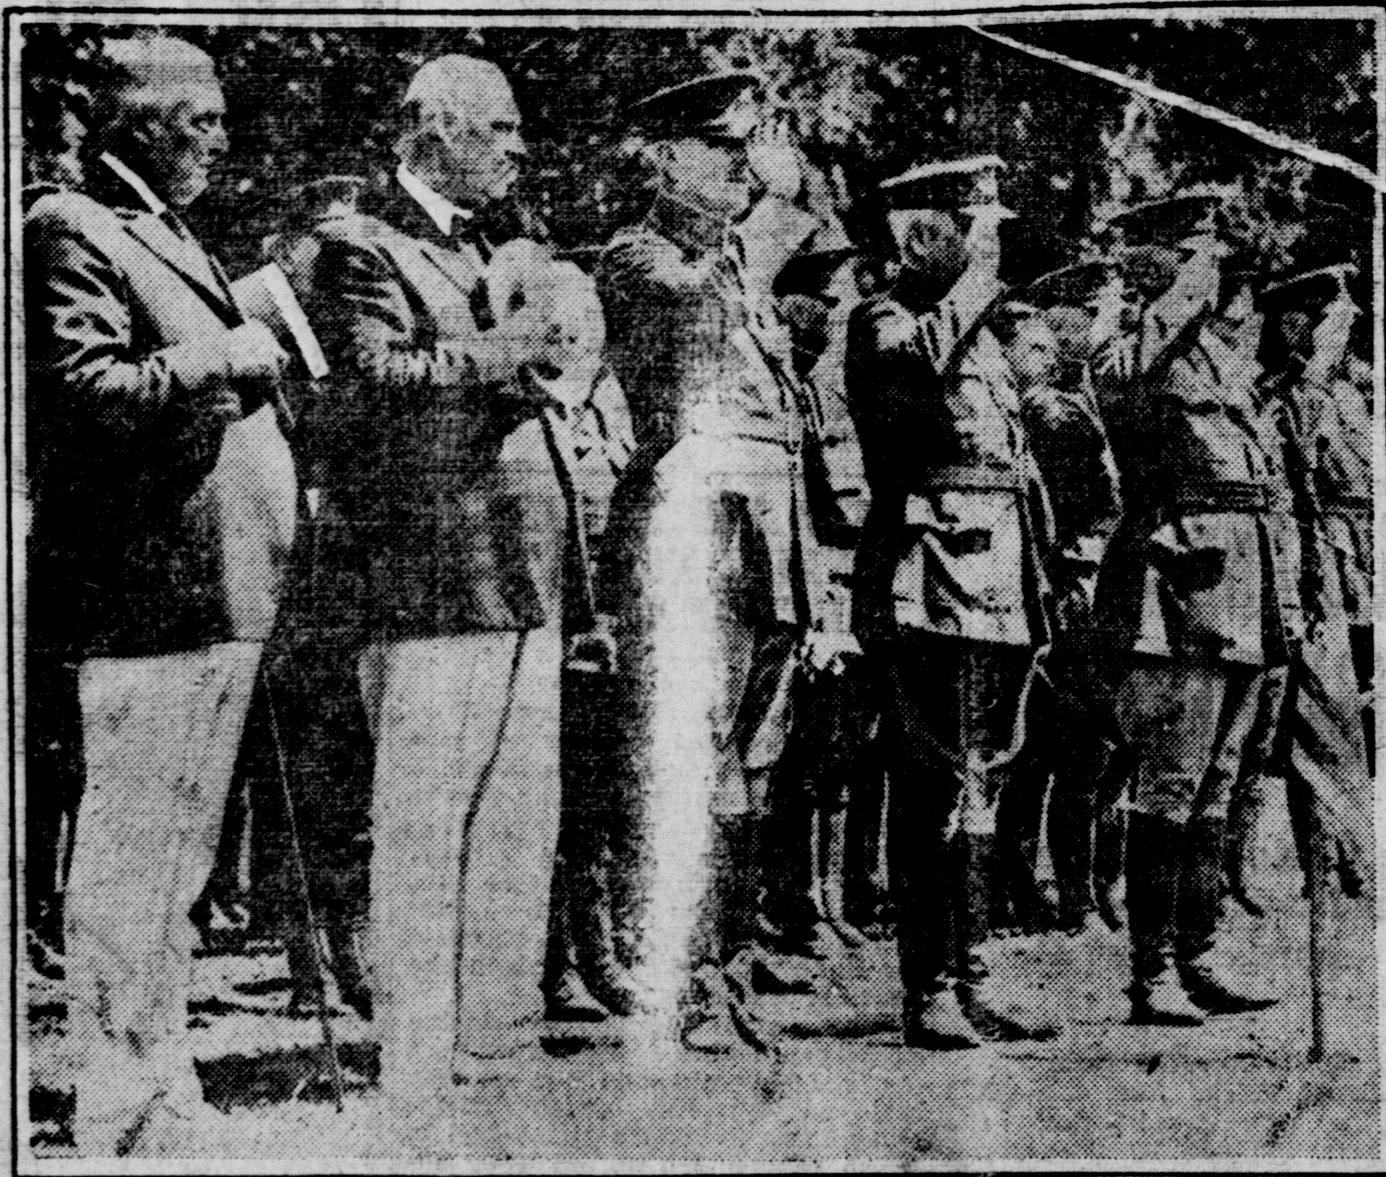

The East Coast Boulevard follows the scenic route of the Florida East Coast Railroad from Jacksonville south, through St. Augustine, Ormond and Daytona, including the famous thirty mile ocean speedway. From Ormond to Miami, a distance of 295 miles, motorists are constantly in touch with the Atlantic Ocean and the Halifax and Indian Rivers, a marvelous journey in which semitropical groves blend their odors with ocean breezes. It passes through Palm Beach, where the tourist can find every accommodation from the most modest to the most luxurious equipment to be found in the Royal Poinciana and the Breakers hotels. And thence down to Miami, seat of the magnificent Hotel Royal Palm and car ferry to Havana.

The Dixie Highway from Jacksonville south to St. Augustine, 41 miles, is brick except the first 9 miles. From St. Augustine south the road is brick for 43 miles and macadam for about 8 miles beyond Daytona. For the last 134.9 miles to Miami, the road is good oiled rock all the way. The Florida State Road Commission has taken over the road from Duval county line to Sunnall and gangs are placed to work putting this section in shape for winter motorists.

RUSSIANS GRAVE WESTERN SPORTS

Soviet Officials Learn of Football Shortage in all Provinces.

(By the Associated Press)

MOSCOW—A "Red Olympiad" is planned by Soviet authorities interested in athletics as Bolshevik Russia's contribution to the world of sport.

Despairing of securing admission to the Paris Olympic games in 1924 Russian athletes hope to be able to organize within a year or two an international competition of the best athletes from the Red Trade Unions and other Communist organizations throughout the world. Proletarian sports, including soccer football, tugs of war, wrestling and field sports are to be featured.

Since the end of the civil war here has been a revival of athletic activity in Russia. Though participating in previous Olympic games, Russia was never noted as a nation where sports were loved. Instead of baseball or cricket the Russians had the ballet, and they rooted for their dancing favorites with all the vim that Americans displayed in cheering their home-run heroes. Horse racing also had thousands of followers, and trotters were as much esteemed at Petrograd and Moscow as in the Kentucky blue grass. Horse raving already has been revived and is growing more popular every day, particularly as betting machines are now permitted.

Athletics Unknown. Among the peasants themselves, however, sport, except for country wrestling and occasional bucolic running matches, was practically unknown. Peasants comprise at least 70 percent of the Russian population. The workmen in the cities are interested principally in football.

The government has now organized a special department to encourage sports and is appointing instructors in every province. The school children are being taught physical culture exercises.

Funds for this purpose are extremely limited however, and there is a great shortage of footballs and other athletic paraphernalia. A recent football match near Moscow was attended by a crowd of nearly 7,000 persons, and the Soviet sport officials declare that within a few years Russia will show more interest in sporting events than was the custom before the war.

J. B. Hill and Mrs. Elva Duval, county demonstration agents, returned today from Stillwater where they attended the annual farm congress and agents' conference at the A. & M. College.

Sky Is Laughter Limit

The McSwain theatre wishes to issue the warning that the sky is the absolute and positive limit of the laughter that will be permitted when "Never Weaken" will be presented today.

Needless to say, the star of "Never Weaken" is Harold Lloyd, the comedian who has introduced to photoplayers the new laugh that comes clean and full from a happy heart and carries no blush with it.

The laughs that will accompany the showing of "Never Weaken" however, will be energized with spine-tingling thrills, for in this reel Associated Exhibitors-comedy,

Lloyd performs some amazing stunts on the iron skeleton of a sky craper in the process of construction.

Pretty Mildred Davis lends leading feminine support. Others are Roy, Marks, Mark Jones and Charles Stevenson. "Never Weaken" is the result of the combined imagination of Hal Roach, its producer, and Sam Taylor, and the direction of Fred Newmeyer.

A New Tread—a Lower Price Reliable Goodyear Quality

Here is a new Goodyear Cord Tire—a big, sturdy, long-wearing tire—that sells at a price lower than you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value.

It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for substantially less.

It has in it the same high-grade long-staple cotton, the same Goodyear patented group-ply construction, the same liberally over-size dimensions.

When you buy the 4 1/2-inch size, for example, you get a tire whose actual measurement is nearly 5 inches.

Don't confuse this Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord with other popular-price cords which sell at the same price or for slightly more.

In many cases, these other cords are made of inferior materials, with short-staple cotton as a foundation.

Get the tire that is good enough to carry the Goodyear name, that is built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

Community Dancing Is Attractive Now With Tulsa Youth

TULSA—Community dancing in the open air has become a popular diversion here this summer during the extremely warm weather. The first of a series of pavement dances to which the entire community was invited was given recently in front of the courthouse by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A crowd of approximately 1,500 people lined the sidewalks as spectators while several hundred couples took part in the dance. The next pavement dance is to be a merenade, given by the junior chamber. Several other civic clubs are planning to either co-operate in giving these dances, or to sponsor similar entertainments.

The open air dances are given free.

George had been working for the Southwestern Bell Telephone company and made his headquarters at Tulsa.

Chicago and Alton Railway Goes Into Hands of Receiver

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Indebtedness of the Chicago and Alton railroad which was placed in the hands of receivers yesterday was estimated today at fourteen million dollars. No accurate statement of the assets can be made now, according to Silas Strawn, named by Federal Judge Carpenter as attorney for the receivers.

Unable for several years to meet all the interest on its six per cent general mortgage bonds, the Chicago and Alton fell a victim of the coal and rail strikes, Mr. Strawn said.

PROHIBITION IS DEAD ISSUE FOR MINNESOTA RACE

(By the Associated Press)
ST. PAUL, MINN., Aug. 30.—The wet and dry issue has been dropped in the congressional contests thus far in Minnesota for the November election, because of an absence of wet candidates.
All incumbents, including Andrew J. Volstead, have been renominated on the republican ticket and all are avowedly dry. In no case where a close race is expected between republican and democratic nominees was the issue raised.
The republican nominees are: First district, Sydney Anderson; Second district, Frank Clague; Third district, Charles R. Davis; Fourth district, Oscar E. Keller; Fifth district, Andrew J. Volstead; Eighth district, Oscar J. Larson; Ninth district, Halvor Steenerson; Tenth district, Thomas H. Schall.
The sharpest conflict is expected in the seventh district, where the Rev. J. O. Kvale, democrat of Benson, probably will oppose Congressman Volstead. Both are dry. In the third district, Mrs. Lillian Gault is a democratic candidate to oppose Charles R. Davis, republican nominee. Mrs. Gault also is dry.
There are democratic candidates in only three other districts and they have no yet announced a position on the wet and dry issue.

A Year

I. C. B.—was a school teacher. Nine months every year he drudged for a small salary. Then came the annual three-months vacation, and he spent all his meagre savings. He could see nothing better in the future. Promotion was slow. He might be refused a contract any time. And salary increases were rare.

NO BUSINESS TRAINING

One day I. C. B.—sat down to take stock. He knew younger men were succeeding in business. But he had no business training. So he began asking about business colleges.
A prosperous acquaintance recommended HILL'S. Immediately I. C. B.—resolved to quit teaching. He came to Oklahoma City. He took up a Complete Business Course. Soon he was earning a salary larger than he had ever received as teacher. Advancement came rapidly, thanks to HILL'S training. Today he is office manager for one of the largest firms loan companies in the Southwest. He earns about $5,000.00 a year—more than the Governor of Oklahoma.

HUNTERS FLOCK TO BRITISH COLUMBIA WITH ADVENT OF THE HUNTING SEASON

Byron Harmon of Banff, Alta. brings down his foot after a long chase and stiff climb

Seventy-Six Year old hunter and Indian Guide hunting in Cassiar District in B.C.

British Columbia offers the best still remaining, easily accessible big game hunting territory on the continent. It is not necessary to go far afield from the railway and some of the best hunting grounds are as follows: Beginning at the east, there is the East Kootenay district, reached from Invermere. Two ranges may be hunted here; in the Rockies on the east are to be found moose, mule and whitetail deer, mountain goat, cinnamon and black bear, while among the Selkirk on the west, are caribou, mule and whitetail deer, mountain goat, grizzly, cinnamon and black bear. Very satisfactory wild fowl shooting may be enjoyed on the lakes and flats in the late fall.
Deer, grizzly and black bear, caribou and goat are found in the country around Chase. Deer are found from 4 miles of the town beyond the 30 mile mark, and goat from 30 miles. Excellent game bird shooting is to be had here, including ducks, geese, pinnated and ruffed geese with some snipe and plover at various points.

Kamloops is the gateway to a rich sporting region where goat, brown, cinnamon, black and grizzly bear, small deer, moose and occasional caribou and sheep (3 varieties) are to be found. From here expeditions to the Fort Fraser country may be arranged—including about 176 miles of canoeing—where deer, bear and other large game may be shot.

A hunting area rapidly growing in favor is the Cariboo District reached from Ashcroft. It is off the beaten path, therefore big game is plentiful and includes grizzly, black and brown bear, moose, caribou, goat and sheep. Fishing for gamey trout is another attraction of this region.

Of course the Cassiar District to the north stands in a class by itself, for the cost of a hunting trip there prohibits a great influx of hunters, insuring good bags for those who hunt there. Thirteen hunters taken in by Frank Callbreath, the outfitter at Telegraph Creek, in 1921, shot 11 moose, 22 caribou, 21 goat, 22 sheep and 20 bear, ten of which were grizzlies.

MINE OFFICIALS TO ADOPT TERMS

Anthracite Strike Pact is Accepted; End of Strike is Near.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Mine union officials negotiating with the operators' representatives in Philadelphia have accepted the anthracite strike settlement proposals advanced as a result of Friday night's conference here, according to advice received today in official circles of the captiol.

The report which reached here shortly after noon stated that the operators also would consent to the settlement plan before the day was over. Details of the Philadelphia discussions were not revealed, however.

Dry Raids Bring on Liquor Shortage in Texas Border Areas

(By the Associated Press)
SAN BENITO, August 30.—Activities of customs officials and prohibition officers in making seizures of liquor in the border sections is reported to have resulted in a shortage in dry territories farther up the coast.

Dry officers recently returned to headquarters in Brownsville after a raid in the Ranccho district, south of San Benito, bringing a wagon heavily loaded with tequila, arguarenta, mescal and other liquors of Mexican manufacture. Approximately 1000 quarts of prickly pear liquor were transported recently by government officers from natural channels flowing from the river to the more distant sections up the state.

Enforcement officers in Corpus Christi report diminishing stocks and declare that rum runners are experiencing unusual difficulty in bringing in fresh supplies. An unconfirmed report has it that dry agents are operating two airplanes in the Corpus Christi district and are keeping bootleg operations to a minimum.

Tom Thumb Wedding Will be resented at Local Church Friday

Tiny actors with serious faces will feature the "Tom Thumb Wedding" Friday night at the First Methodist church, according to a program announced today by the Women's Missionary Society, under the auspices of which the performance will be given.

Costumes of the little principals will be another strong part of the entertainment. Leaders of the missionary society promised today one of the best amusements of the season and predicted a big crowd for the show.

The play will be given under professional direction and will be the same as presented in the big cities.

The Finished Job.

When a woman sees a man, her first impulse is to make a fool of him. After she has made a fool of him she drops him, because no woman wants a fool. If she can't make a fool of him, then she hates him; because no woman wants a stubborn man. But if he turns the tables and makes her want him until her very soul weeps with hunger, then she loves him truly, for who would not adore an unimpassioned brute?
Truly, that is the finished job of the good god love.—Ex.

Backs Are Plentiful.

The cables announce that a certain American woman now abroad is exhibiting the most beautiful back in the world.

"That statement reminds me of some of the theories advanced in regard to relativity."

"How so?"
"You may say a thing is thus and so, with the most solemn manner, and still have the dickens of a time proving it."

OFFICERS WANT LAW TO ASSURE SOBER ANIMALS

(By the Associated Press)
MUSKOGEE—Local federal officials are seeking a law which will protect farm stock, pigs, horses, cattle and goats, and including chickens and ducks, from the after-effects of moonshine mash.

Farmers living in the Braggs vicinity have reported here that moonshine distillers, moving from place to place, have dumped the mash left after making a "run" of corn whiskey at the places where they last operated. Stock running free on the range has found the mash and eaten it, and in nearly a dozen reported instances it has proven fatal to the animals.

A special delegation of Braggs farmers came here recently to interview federal officials as to some means to stop the mash-dumping practice.

McSwain Friday

Admirers of Constance Talmadge, and their name is legion, will be interested in the announcement that she is coming to the McSwain theatre Friday in a revival of one of her earlier screen successes, "Happiness is a la Mode." In this attractive feature Miss Talmadge portrays a young wife with an unfaithful husband who succumbs to the wiles of another woman and asks his little wife for a divorce. She gives him his divorce and she is allowed three months in which to file her final decree.

Wife was just clever enough to realize that the way to win back her man was to trade places with her rival. The other woman was now the promised wife and she was now the "outside girl," the romantic sweetheart. Her plan was brought to a fruitful conclusion when she invites him to dinner and pretends to have a nervous breakdown after the meal. He takes her home and sends for a doctor. While hubby is tenderly caring for her, the feminine rival appears on the scene and seeking to arouse the

DODGE BROTHERS COMMERCIAL CAR

The car's long-established reputation for faithful, low-cost service has not influenced Dodge Brothers in their constant seeking after betterments.

A semi-floating rear-axle is now provided, embodying the latest ideas in rear axle design. The main housing is 75 per cent stronger. One large Timken bearing at the hub replaces two small bearings and gives 100 per cent greater carrying capacity. Larger ring gear and drive pinion make possible a new, tooth shape, giving quiet operation and 45 per cent increase in strength. Larger front and rear propeller shaft bearings more than double the drive thrust capacity.

Conservative changes in body lines have materially enhanced the attractiveness of the car's appearance.
